Henderson, Thomas Get Prison Terms

Magistrate H. C. Hall in Esquimalt police court today handed down a three-year penitentiary sentence to John J. Henderson for breaking and entering the Halfway House beer parlor with intent to steal, early on the morning of May 19. To the younger partner in crime, Andrew Thomas, the magistrate gave a sentence of two years, less one day, with hard labor, which will send Thomas to Oakalla prison farm.

Magistrate Warns Vancouver Bookies

VANCOUVER (CP)—"Bookies" in future will go to jail rather than have the option of paying a fine, Magistrate H. S. Wood intimated in police court today when he fined Owen L. Carey, cigar stand proprietor, $75, or in default three months in jail for recording bets on the horse races. Carey pleaded guilty to the charge.

Doctors Protest

CALGARY (CP)—The medical staff of the Calgary General Hospital is threatening drastic action, even to the length of a "strike," unless the hospital's board takes definite steps for the engaging of a full-time medical superintendent at the institution.

The "strike" would not interfere with the proper medical care of the patients, but it is understood the medical staff would decline to deliver lectures at the classes for nurses in training.

Surgeons Operate On Lord Haw Haw

BRITISH 2ND ARMY HEADQUARTERS (Reuter)—Doctors operated today on William Joyce (Lord Haw Haw), and removed a bullet from his thigh. Joyce, who broadcast German propaganda over the Nazi radio during the war, was wounded when he was captured by British forces two days ago. The operation was simple and he will be able to move within a few days.

Big Sturgeon Caught

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—An 852-pound sturgeon was landed at the Fraser River Company wharf here today by Paul Anhorn. The fish was caught near the confluence of the Pitt and Fraser Rivers. It is just twice the size of one caught in the Fraser River a week ago.

Russians Block World League Step

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The United Nations Conference hit its first snag at higher levels today when Russia blocked commission action on a proposal governing election of the principal officer of a proposed world league.

The commission took up a report from one of its committees outlining the broad authority that has been mapped out for the General Assembly of the new world organization. It quickly approved recommendations that all organization members also should be members of the Assembly and that the Assembly admit new members on recommendation of the projected Security Council.

C. Christensen, foreman of B.C. Packers Ltd., stands beside the biggest halibut to be brought here this season. It weighed over 300 pounds and was estimated to be 70 years old. Halibut average 30 pounds but in one shipment of 94,300 pounds brought here this week from West Coast fishing grounds 16 weighed more than 100 pounds each. The big fish take three or four men to handle and after being placed in the hold have been known to leap overboard.

Short Wave Radio to Locate Friends of Canadians In Europe

OTTAWA (CP)—A service to Canadians anxious to locate relatives and friends in Europe by short wave broadcasts will be started in the near future, the Canadian Red Cross Society announced today. The service, which is being arranged through the international service of the C.B.C., will be confined for some time to Holland and Czechoslovakia, and will be included in regular broadcasts to those countries already being broadcast by the CBC.

Canada's Middle Powers Plan Wins

SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—A Big Five proposal which meets in a large measure Canada's draft amendment to give middle powers a part in Security Council deliberations leading to the use of their forces is expected to be made public at today's session of the United Nations Conference. Enough information leaked from a Big Five meeting Tuesday to confirm reports that they were prepared to concede this point, which constitutes the major effort of the Canadian delegation to improve the Dumbarton Oaks agreement. The amendment had the full support of Common-

50 Gestapo Men Executed After Trial By Allies

LONDON (Reuter)—The Allies have executed 50 Gestapo men at Flensburg, headquarters of the late Doenitz "government" of Germany, it was reported from Copenhagen today. They had been brought from the Froelstoeves camp in Denmark to Flensburg, where the Allied military court condemned them to death, Allied headquarters in Flensburg said.

TO MAP PROCEDURE

LONDON (CP)—Procedure for bringing war criminals to justice as speedily as possible will be mapped by representatives of 16 of the United Nations tomorrow at a meeting in London presided over by Lord Wright, chairman of the International War Crimes Commission.

Representatives of each country will have an opportunity to submit recommendations for handling war guilt trials.

The London press, meanwhile, reported that William Joyce, British renegade who won the nickname of "Lord Haw Haw" for his propaganda broadcasts over the German radio, would be tried under the Treachery Act of 1940, or for high treason under a British statute dating back to 1351, rather than as a war criminal.

Foreign Secretary Eden said today in the House of Commons "very great progress" had been made in planning for the trials of war criminals during consultations here by Justice Robert H. Jackson, United States counsel for the prosecution of war crimes.

Iran Government Asks Allies To Take Troops Away

TEHRAN (Reuter)—The Iran government today requested the evacuation of British, U.S. and Russian troops now that hostilities in Europe have ceased.

Iran's Foreign Minister, Sepah Bodi, informed Parliament that identical notes had been sent to the British, U.S. and Soviet embassies, in which "we demanded that in view of the cessation of European hostilities and in order to restore a normal situation in the country, British, American and Russian troops evacuate Iran."

Postwar Program

CANBERRA (CP)—The federal government tabled today in the House of Representatives a white paper entitled "Full Employment in Australia," pledging peacetime work for all Australian servicemen, servicewomen and workers in munition industries, totaling about 1,000,000.

The white paper listed a national works council program of $193,000,000 (about $627,250,000) worth of public works.

Former Seaforth O.C. Appointed To Lead Canadians In Far East

OTTAWA (CP)—Maj. Gen. Bert M. Hoffmeister, 38, C.B.E., D.S.O., of Vancouver, who led the Seaforth Highlanders in Sicily and later became commander of the 5th Armored Division, has been appointed commander of the Canadian Far East Force, officially identified for the first time as the 6th Division, it was announced today.

The announcement of the name of the commander of the 30,000 volunteers who will fight against Japan under U.S. overall command was made by the office of Prime Minister King.

It previously had been reported that the C.F.E.F., an over-sized division, would be called the 6th and would wear a distinctive hexagon patch made up of the colors of the shoulder patches of the five overseas divisions and the black of the independent armored brigades.

An official statement recently said the 6th would be based on an infantry division and include armor and ancillary units. It probably will be organized along U.S. lines, but the Canadian identity of the troops will be maintained as they will wear Canadian uniforms.

Volunteers for the Pacific force now serving with the 1st Army overseas will be given top priority home for 30 clear days' leave before gathering by brigades in Canadian reception areas. Later they will cross the border to a concentration point in United States for final training before moving to a Pacific base.

The men will receive special Pacific campaign pay which amounts to a bonus of about $10 a month and brings a private's pay-up to $54. This compares with the U.S. private's pay of $60 and a combat infantryman's pay of $70.

Gen. Hoffmeister has proved an excellent infantry commander. His wife, Mrs. Amber Vonald Hoffmeister, resides at 4749 Belmont Ave., Vancouver, and his mother, Mrs. Flora Hoffmeister, lives at 2293 King's Avenue West, in the same city.

Chinese Near Ishan Recapture Ningteh

CHUNGKING (AP)—Chinese troops striking along the Kwangsi-Kweichow railroad have reached the vicinity of Ishan, 43 miles west of Luchow, a former U.S. air base which field reports say the Japanese may be preparing to evacuate.

The Chinese high command, announcing this new success today, told of fighting at points along a 900-mile front, with the Chinese making new inroads from the western side of the enemy corridor stretching from the Yellow River to French Indochina.

In Honan province at the northern end of the 900-mile front Chinese forces were attacking northward in the direction of Shansien, on the Lunghai railroad less than 50 miles east of the Honan-Shensi border. By last Sunday they had regained all positions which were held May 16 when the Japanese began their southward thrust, the announcement said.

Paris Indicates Intervention By Others Resented

LONDON (CP)—The Syrian and Lebanese legations here said today that the French had bombed Damascus, capital of Syria, Tuesday night.

Intervention of the British Ministry stopped the bombardment, the legations said in a joint statement, but firing continues. The statement did not explain the extent of the firing.

New outbreaks of violence were reported in Syria in the dispute between France and the governments of Syria and Lebanon.

(The BBC said heavy fighting was in progress in Damascus and that "French troops had entered the city and the Parliament House." A Beyrouth report said the Syrian youth movement had decided to resume the general strike.)

The Beyrouth radio said Syrian artillery had been brought into action against the offices of the French legation and "all French military positions in Damascus" Tuesday night. It added that "French military authorities therefore have taken all necessary measures."

Fighting, which started at Aleppo in the extreme north and has spread southward through Hama and Homs, was reported to have reached Derris, 60 miles south of Damascus near the Transjordan frontier, where natives were said to have attacked French garrison barracks.

A train was reported derailed between Hamdanieh and Kawakeb, with three persons killed and 14 injured.

Acting Premier Jamil Mardam Bey of Syria said Tuesday that the disturbances already had taken a toll of 80 to 100 killed and 200 to 300 wounded.

Neither France nor the two Levantine governments showed any inclination to compromise.

French Foreign Ministry circles were quoted as saying they would not welcome outside mediation and the Paris radio emphasized that France "intends to insure the guaranteeing of her strategic interests, including the use of certain air bases and ports on the route to the Far East. The broadcast added that France also wishes to guarantee her economic interests, including her rights to a share in Mosul oil.

The Syrian and Lebanese ministers in London countered with a statement declaring: "Now France is presenting demands which had never been mentioned before. The answer of the Syrian and Lebanese peoples and governments is that they will never accept such demands."

Canadians to Fly Bombers Home

OTTAWA (CP)—Scores of planes and hundreds of men of the R.C.A.F. 6th Overseas Bomber Group shortly will start back to Canada by air, Air Vice-Marshal Frank McGill announced here today. He added the big Lancasters would carry their crews, their equipment and some key groundsmen in a movement that would be completed by autumn.

Back from a tour of the European theatre, Vice-Marshal McGill, the R.C.A.F.'s supply and organization chief, said it would be the first operational movement to Canada of its kind. He declined to disclose the eventual destination of the big night heavies, but presumably they will fly on to Pacific bases after regrouping here.

He hoped the wives of occupation airmen would be able to join their husbands at the stations in Germany. The only thing that was holding up such a plan was the lack of ocean transport.

Trolley Buses Here Depend On B.C. Electric Survey

Whether Victoria will have gasoline buses, trolley buses or a combination of the two will depend on the results of a survey now being conducted in the city by the B.C. Electric Railway Co., according to an announcement made today by A. T. Goward, vice-president.

"This survey," said Mr. Goward, "has been going on throughout Greater Victoria. We expect it will be completed shortly. On the reports will depend what type of transportation the city will have following the war."

B.C. Electric's traffic department and engineering department officials, Mr. Goward said, are working on the survey. He stressed that final plans will be worked out in agreement with the Public Utilities Commission and the civic authorities.

100,000 Germans Must Clear French Beaches of Mines

By MONTAGUE TAYLOR

PARIS (Reuter)—About 100,000 German prisoners are to clear minefields from French holiday beaches, where 54 children have been killed in one month by German booby traps, Raymond Aubrac, director of mine clearance, said today in the newspaper France Tireur.

"All our beaches, with rare exceptions, are extremely dangerous, owing to German minefields," he wrote. "It is unpardonable that the Germans followed no plan in their mining."

"The clearing is going to be a long and perilous task. There are about 1,160 square miles of our soil with 100,000,000 mines. Each square yard may have its mine."

Revise Point Plan for Release Of Men Overseas; Wounds Count

OTTAWA (CP) — Operation service, wounds, age and first Great War service will be considered under new regulations governing the discharge of army personnel, Defence Headquarters announced Tuesday night.

Previously the Army's reallocation and demobilization program was based only on a point-scoring plan with two points for each month of home service, three points for overseas service and 20 per cent more for married men.

This scoring system was applied primarily to establish priorities for sending men back to Canada from the fighting front. Now it has been announced that men with scores of more than 180 points can apply for discharge on arrival home, subject to the exigencies of the service.

Other men who can apply for discharge are:

1. Men with four years' service outside the western hemisphere with at least six months in an actual theatre of operations.

2. Men with at least four years' service outside the western hemisphere who have been wounded.

3. Men with at least four years' service and who are 42 years old.

4. Men who also served in the first Great War.

Exceptions will be men who already have volunteered for Pacific service and permanent force personnel.

When the original reallocation and demobilization scheme was announced it was indicated high score men would be discharged on arrival in Canada, medium score men would wait for the return of units as such, while low score men would go into the occupation army. First priority home, however, goes to Pacific volunteers.

Domestic Themes Stressed In Talks By Election Candidates

By Canadian Press

The war was thrust into the background Tuesday night as domestic issues such as housing, forestry and old age pensions provided the theme of federal election campaign debate.

Housing was stressed by Finance Minister Ilsley when he told a Toronto rally 50,000 housing units would be built during the next 12 months to meet essential housing needs, and said important measures already had been taken to provide materials and supplies for the building program.

At the same time, Mr. Ilsley warned against "extremism," which he described as the greatest enemy of the country, and charged that the Progressive Conservatives had arranged a

Saanich Council
Looks to Future
For War Veterans

Veterans' welfare and rehabilitation came in for wide discussion at a meeting Tuesday evening of Saanich council. Major move of the council was its favorable reconsideration of the Soldier Settlement and Veterans' Land Act request for approval of its subdivision plans with the understanding the council be given a guarantee that interior roads among the parcels of land would be built within one year.

J. D. Patterson, regional supervisor for the Soldier Settlement and Veterans' Land Act, who spoke to the council on the subject, said plans for erection of 80 houses under the scheme would go into effect shortly. The houses will be located mainly within the south Saanich area, extending toward Victoria.

It would be only a beginning for the department, which had plans for location of hundreds of veterans within the Greater Victoria district, he said.

The council, in line with the scheme, voted the sum of $700 for construction of a 16-foot-wide gravel road extending some 700 feet from the existing and of Mortimer Road into an area where it was proposed veterans would be situated under the scheme.

To Councillor William B. White the whole thing was "a proposition that will be an asset to Saanich." The council, as a whole, agreed with Mr. White.

The council, however, was not as enthusiastic over a communication from the City of Victoria, dealing with a resolution passed by the Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion condemning alleged neglect of veterans' burial lots and asking establishment and maintenance by Greater Victoria of a Veterans' Burial Park.

To Reeve E. C. Warren, the veterans' section in Royal Oak Burial Park was "remarkably well kept," and he felt criticism of it was "undeserved."

At his request John Tribe, municipal clerk, re-read the resolution and the reeve pointed out to the councillors that, although the criticism was general, the resolution made no discrimination between good and bad.

Councillor George Austin said the plot set aside for veterans in the Royal Oak cemetery was getting crowded, but added the parks board was making provision for extension of the plot.

The council then accepted the reeve's suggestion the letter be acknowledged by the council, saying it was willing to go on record as endorsing the setting aside of further plots for veterans by the Victoria and Saanich Parks Board, if requested.

PROPOSAL REFUSED

The council dealt sternly with a letter from Victoria Citizen's Rehabilitation Council regarding suggestions for emergency housing for ex-servicemen's families.

The communication suggested Saanich municipality make application to Wartime Housing for permission to erect 35 houses, that being the municipality's share of a proposed 100 throughout Greater Victoria.

After reading specifications of the houses required and stating they did not come up to the standard set by Saanich zoning regulations, the council unanimously passed a resolution that the proposal be refused on the grounds that the housing program was not fit for returned men.

In the preamble before the resolution, hearing the specifications, Councillor Austin had said he hoped the houses suggested would be better than those already put up under the Wartime Housing plan. He thought those were "terrible."

Reeve Warren, understanding the joint labor council and various veterans' organizations did not approve of present houses built under the scheme, saw no reason why Saanich council should give its stamp of approval to the plan.

Anyway, he added, Saanich with its present sewer system, did not lend itself to any plan for large groups of cheap houses within the municipality boundaries. He was definitely of the opinion the council could not feel the program was up to a standard fit for returned men.

G. E. Williams, a veteran of this war, brought his problem to the council. He lived on Camrose Crescent, he said, and had a plot behind him on which he had done some gardening. The lot was assessed at $375, he said, and his offer for $250 for it had been refused.

He wanted to know if Saanich was going to adopt a policy similar to that of the City of Victoria in granting veterans a reduction of 75 per cent on land they wished to buy.

The council decided it would be a good thing to discuss, and moved the matter be referred to committee when a policy would probably be formulated.

Thoughtfully, it also decided to take off "the sale list the lot for

Bracken Denies Tory Tie With Houde, Duplessis

Statements that he and his party are supporting Houde and Duplessis in Quebec were branded as downright lies by Progressive Conservative Leader John Bracken at Royal Victoria Theatre Tuesday evening.

He said that never did he stand on the same platform with Duplessis, as some circles are now charging, never in five years has he seen him, except for a few minutes.

"We don't talk two languages in Canada—one in Quebec and another out here," he said.

The theatre was about three-quarters filled Behind Mr. Bracken on the stage sat leading Conservatives of Greater Victoria and in the front row were the island's two Conservative candidates, Sir Henry Drayton, Victoria; Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Nanaimo; Mrs. Bracken, Mrs. Pearkes, Lady Drayton, Senators Barnard and Green, Mrs. Green, Attorney-General R. L. Maitland and Public Works Minister Herbert Anscomb. Gordon A. Cameron, president of Victoria Federal Progressive Conservative Association, was in the chair.

Greeted as he rose to speak by the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and three cheers, Mr. Bracken, who had appeared earlier in the day at Nanaimo and Duncan, referred to Gen. Pearkes as a man who had been willing to give up his job for a principle.

NEED OF HOUSES

He said that everywhere in Canada he had gone in the last three weeks he had seen the crying need of housing and said the King government had not been inexcusably negligent in not being ready for the emergency of soldiers returning from overseas in need of homes.

Mr. Bracken said Canada must assume an increasingly important role in the British Commonwealth of Nations.

"In that group of nations, Canada has grown to her present status," he said "For us there is no better example to be found than in the British Commonwealth. If Canada as a nation is to go forward and prosper, we must demonstrate in the future the same loyalty, the same tenacious and effective co-operation within the Commonwealth as our sons have exhibited in the years of war. From now forward, as one of the senior partners in the Commonwealth, Canada must not only exercise her responsibilities, but assume her responsibilities. And in doing so, she ought not to forget that more justice, more freedom and more self-government have been and are being brought to some people by Great Britain than by any other nation in ancient or modern times."

Canada must let no doubt prevail in the mind of the world as to the essential unity of the Commonwealth, Mr. Bracken said. Any such doubt would be an invitation to war.

FOR COMMONWEALTH UNITY

"We cannot allow political tergivers to undermine the foundations, either of Commonwealth unity or of world peace," Mr. Bracken said. "It would be a national and, indeed, a world disaster were we to allow the unity within the Commonwealth to be destroyed. We must reaffirm Canada's allegiance to the British Crown and to the British Commonwealth and Empire—the freest commonwealth and the most outstanding and constructive force for the good of mankind the world has ever known. Canadians would not be worthy of their heritage, we would not be worthy of the name we bear, if we did not, with united hearts, raise our voices in support of this basic principle."

The Tory leader called the King government's manpower policy the greatest hoax that had ever been perpetrated on any people. By it a stigma had been placed on Quebec, he said; those French-Canadians who wouldn't go to war took that stigma because of the false Liberal teachings in Quebec over many years.

"The government alone must bear the responsibility—disunity was never worse in Canada than it is today," he said. "The only sound foundation for this nation is equal rights for all in peace, as well as equal responsibility in time of war."

Mr. Bracken said the last man in Canada who should charge him with making a deal with Quebec is Mr. King. He said the government is now bribing Canadian soldiers in Europe to volunteer for the Pacific war by offering them 30 days at home.

"Our policy is to say to those boys, 'come on home, you've done your share,' and then we'll use the Home Defence Army which is equipped and trained," he said. The King government, he said, is afraid to demobilize which Mr. Williams had made his bid, until a decision had been reached in regard to the reduction.

the Home Defence Army and allow them to take jobs before other soldiers get home from Europe and afraid also to send them to fight the Japs, so the Home Defence soldiers will stay in Canada and the public will be charged with the bill.

TO DEVELOP B.C.

Mr. Bracken pledged his party to develop B.C.'s forest industry. There should be a national forestry program, he said. In the fishing industry, too, resources must be conserved, that great source of wealth must be safeguarded.

"We must see the standard of living of the fishermen will not again be endangered by letting people of another and lower standard of living come in and compete with them," he said, adding that he would restate what he said a year ago about the Japanese—that never again, in the interests of national safety, in the interests of the Japanese themselves, should they be allowed to live in British Columbia.

"Who brought them in?" shouted a man in the audience.

"Well, I didn't," Mr. Bracken replied.

The Conservative leader said Mr. King had attempted to hoodwink the people when he referred to a tried and trusted cabinet when he spoke in Vancouver two weeks ago "to a select audience or perhaps not so select."

Of Mr. King he said "he's a man who still believes in the divine right of kings, a doctrine rejected by British people many years ago and it will be rejected again June 11."

Mr. Bracken went through the King cabinet of January 1941 to show that of 18 ministers then only six remain, besides the Prime Minister.

He took them one by one. Mr. Ralston, he said, was forced to walk the plank, Mr. King threw him out because he wanted to re-inforce Canadians overseas; Ian Mackenzie—"he's still there until June 11—he's the man who miserably failed to provide hospitalization for returned men;"

Cremar—"he's gone to his reward in the Senate;" Power—"running as an Independent; Michaud—"he got his reward and is now in the New Brunswick Supreme Court;" Gardiner—"they tell me it's doubtful if he'll be there after June 11;" McLarty—"he's out;" Casgrain—"he got his reward on the bench in Quebec;" Gibson—"he won't be re-elected in Hamilton;" Angus Macdonald—"he couldn't stomach the Prime Minister's manpower policy."

"They saw the handwriting on the wall," Mr. Bracken said, "and they cleared out. Yet the Prime Minister tried to hoodwink the people that they would be voting for the same government they had in 1941."

GEN. PEARKE'S

Gen. Pearkes said the statement this week by a Quebec Liberal that the eldest Bracken son was a draft dodger "is a cruel, heartless and despicable slander from the Liberal party against a family which has done so much for Canada." The man who made that statement, Gen. Pearkes said, is a miserable wretch. He said he had seen the heartache and pain and grief which was caused Mrs. Bracken and the stiffening of the jaw and tightening of the lips of Mr. Bracken when they heard of the statement the day before in Vancouver.

"Never in the history of this country has there been such a cruel and ruthless slanderous attack," he said.

Gen. Pearkes said he is convinced the people of Canada are demanding a change and that after June 11 Mr. King will find, if he is in Parliament at all, that he is in opposition.

SIR HENRY DRAYTON

Sir Henry Drayton referred to Mr. Bracken as "our next Prime Minister." The manpower policy of the King government, he said, has been based on lies and diabolical misrepresentation and that the boys overseas had been diabolically treated.

"Give Mr. Bracken a chance and you'll have things going," Sir Henry said. "He's not a man of promises—he's a man of action. To be with him on the same platform—why, it is to be with a man who can restore unity in a country so torn asunder as this country is today."

Mr. Cameron appealed to people of Liberal leanings who are wavering now to cast their ballots for Sir Henry. Many Liberals, he said, openly express dissatisfaction with the King government, and yet, because they like Bob Mayhew and believe him a good fellow might after all, vote Liberal.

"The old saying 'vote for the man' does not apply now," Mr. Cameron said.

Of Poll—Greenwell

PENDER ISLAND — George Greenwell, Nanaimo Labor Progressive candidate, in an address here said the issue facing Canadians today is not socialism vs. private enterprise, but of jobs, homes, peace and prosperity in the postwar.

"Democratic coalition is the answer," he said. "With labor a partner in government we can achieve higher standard of living and broader social reforms, including expanding health services and fuller educational facilities."

"We have had coalitions before—notably this disastrous coalition of Hirohito, Hitler and Mussolini. From this experience we have learned a lesson and realize that we should have rather a coalition patterned after the order of Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin, which gave the world the perspective of an enduring peace with increasing well-being for the people of the world."

"On the opposition benches we can only criticize," he concluded. "In the government, labor can

Expect Jolliffe Will Give Details Of Charges Against Drew Tonight

TORONTO (CP)—A 28-minute radio address by Ontario C.C.F. leader E. B. Jolliffe tonight is expected to give further details of the secret political police set-up which Mr. Jolliffe alleges was perched in Ontario by Premier Drew.

In announcing the proposed broadcast to a public meeting in his York South constituency Tuesday night, Mr. Jolliffe said all evidence could not be given in 28 minutes, but all salient points concerning his charges would be given by radio and "every possible method."

At St. Catharines, Liberal Leader Mitchell F. Hepburn sounded another call for immediate investigation of Mr. Jolliffe's charges by the Royal Commission appointed by the Premier Monday. Mr. Hepburn said he would cancel his campaign speeches "so as not to take unfair advantage" if the Premier and Mr. Jolliffe testified before the commission.

The Premier, who announced Monday that Mr. Justice A. M.

Lebel of the Ontario High Court would act as Royal Commissioner to investigate the charges, spoke in Ottawa where he said the Ontario government has decided to build an "Ontario building" in Ottawa. The building would quarter officials engaged in Dominion-provincial activities and in matters of health, game, fisheries and tourism.

Mr. Hepburn said he believed there might be some truth in Mr. Jolliffe's "gestapo" charges because the Premier had an obsession about Communism. "The Liberal administration when it was in power in Ontario had been wrong occasionally, but it was preferable to 'reactionary Toryism' or 'Socialism which would lead to national chaos'."

Mr. Jolliffe criticized Premier Drew for appointing a judge "who has a great many cases" and said the Royal Commission could have been appointed Friday. If the government were innocent, it was not likely to have waited so long or appointed "a judge so busy."

Lebrun Protests Loyalty to France

PARIS (Reuter)—Albert Lebrun, former President of the French Republic, who has been in Paris for four days, told the newspaper France Libre Tuesday he had never tendered his resignation to the Bordeaux government when France collapsed in 1940.

"I have always been a faithful servant of the constitution and I would have considered obedience to Pierre Laval's orders an act of desertion," he said. "I never resigned. I was spirited out by Petain."

Houde Says Canada Gave Britain Pledge

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)—Mayor Camille Houde of Montreal, co-leader of the Bloc Populaire in the June 11 federal election campaign, told an election meeting Wednesday night that Prime Minister King had assured the British government of Canada's full support before Britain declared war on Germany in 1939.

Britain would not have waged war on Germany, Mayor Houde said, if its government had not "previously" been given assurance by the Canadian prime minister of "our complete support."

Victorian Elected 1st Vice-President Of Legion in B.C.

RFVELSTOKE, B.C. (CP)—Jack Henderson of Vancouver was re-elected president of the British Columbia Command, Canadian Legion, at the closing session of the 16th annual meeting here Tuesday.

Other officers elected are: First vice-president, R. Knight, Victoria; second vice-president, L. T. Price, Vancouver; third vice-president, J. R. Evans, Kamloops; fourth vice-president, B. Isman, Vancouver; honorary treasurer, W. Millar, Vancouver, and Dominion representative, G. L. Cassady, K.C., New Westminster.

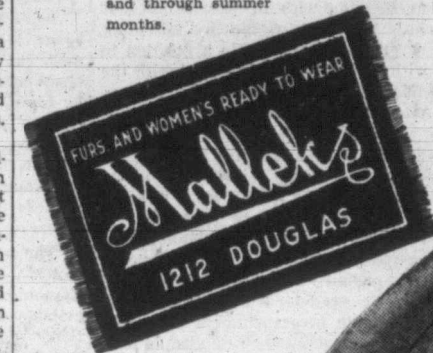

The convention paid tribute to departed members at an impressive parade and ceremony at the Cenotaph at noon. Before adjourning the convention passed a resolution extending birthday greetings to Lady Lake of Victoria on her 93rd birthday and expressed sympathy to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A number of resolutions dealing with different matters from pensions to the disfranchisement of deserters were passed. The convention supported a resolution from Field that the Dominion government should encourage the growing of sugar beets and backed the Britannia branch in its contention that Japanese should be sent back to Japan. Another resolution that the manufacture of arms and munitions should be done by the government also carried.

Two years compulsory military training in the militia for Canadian youth is called for in another resolution adopted by the convention. Delegates urged the government to make the training effective at the age of 18 and to provide that trainees must attend a stated number of parades each year.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

Strange things are afoot in southern China — developments which seem to presage the Japanese abandonment of many of their ill-got gains in that part of the continent, but which are so startling that one hesitates to accept that view.

The Chinese successes in the Nanning sector, close to the French Indo-China border, continue to pile up. Indeed, the Japs are showing weakness in their corridor through south-central China as far north as the great Yangtze River, which pours eastward from Chungking until it reaches the sea north of Shanghai. Recently, too, numerous troop trains have been moving from the southern zone towards northern China, or maybe Manchuria.

One natural thought, of course, is that the Mikado's forces are concentrating in the north as a precaution against the possible entry of Russia into the war. Then, too, they might be consolidating in northern China and Manchuria for a final stand when Japan proper is knocked out.

The Japanese hold on this coastal area has become increasingly tenuous. Their predicament has grown worse recently through British victories, which have knocked them out of Burma and not only have reopened China's back door for passage of supplies, but have created a great threat to the Malay Peninsula, Thailand and French Indo-China.

This big area not only has ceased to be a profitable source of supplies, because of the blockade, but it is becoming a trap. It may be that the Japs have decided to write this off as an asset, salvaging what they can for use in northern China.

300 Lascars Riot At Royal City

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A near-riot between more than 300 Lascars at their Eighth Avenue encampment here Tuesday night was brought under control before any serious damage was done.

New Westminster police said officers stood by at the site throughout the night as a precautionary measure.

One man was taken to a hospital, but the extent of his injuries was not stated. Several others suffered minor cuts and two were lodged in the city jail.

The Lascars, all merchant seamen, are housed in an old military camp, awaiting posting to ships.

Police said the trouble started during a football game. Reports said that Lascars on the sidelines surged on the playing field and a mix-up ensued with the men slugging each other with sticks and stones.

Police Chief Jack Donald was unable to give any reason for the clash, but said it was known there had been minor internal flare-ups between the three factions of Lascars here recently.

The chief said 400 Lascars were brought here from Vancouver when lack of space at the Vancouver Merchant Marine Manning's pool prevented housing them in that city.

While awaiting posting some of the men have been working in lumber mills here, helping to ease the acute shortage of labor.

4 Italian Fascists Lynched

PARIS (Reuter)—Four Italian Fascists were lynched Tuesday by a crowd in the neighborhood of Nancy after the funeral of a deportee who died as a result of bad treatment received during captivity.

A number of relatives gathered outside the town hall of Jarny, near Nancy, and demanded four members of an Italian family known to be Fascists to be produced for public questioning.

When the police commissioner refused to produce them, the crowd broke into the commissariat, seized the Italians and lynched them.

MR. DREW'S FEARS AND HOPES

IF THESE WERE NORMAL TIMES, AND if the minds of the public were being directed by some politicians and some newspapers to the importance of the days ahead instead of to conditions which belonged to yesterday, it might reasonably be argued that the verdict of the people in next Monday's general election in Ontario would be decided on purely provincial issues. This is not to say that the electors of Canada's wealthiest and highly-industrialized province—whether Liberal, Conservative or C.C.F.—will deal with the Drew government on its hostility to federal Family Allowances or the Premier's antipathy to the administration of Mr. King. The appeal of Mr. Drew himself suggests that his chief concern is the kind of government the voters choose to elect to conduct the business of Ontario for the next five years. And the reason is not far to seek. On May 14, for example, the Premier set forth his views in all their stark significance as follows:

"Never has so much depended upon an election in this province. No mere question of party advantage or party success is at stake on June 4. This election is going to determine whether we are to have strong democratic government in Ontario or whether, at this critical time, we are to suffer all the evil consequences of the sort of group government which has proved so disastrous wherever it has been tried. Please let us not be in any doubt about the alternatives. . . . Group government which seeks to combine socialism, communism and various other 'isms' never has worked satisfactorily and never will. The only present alternative to such group government in Ontario is a strong working majority for the Progressive Conservative Party."

The foregoing is worth more than fleeting study. In a Legislature of 90 members, the government held 38 seats, the C.C.F. 34, and the Liberals 16, with the Labor Progressives accounting for the other two. To give him a majority in the next House, Mr. Drew would need to gain at least 10 seats to make his position fairly secure. And as the Winnipeg Free Press reminds us, the Ontario Premier has refrained from statements that might offend Liberal oppositionists; indeed, he has not uttered a single word of criticism of the federal Liberal party and he has done his best to differentiate between Mr. Hepburn and the provincial Liberal party. In other words, Mr. Drew not only is pursuing a course, to quote our contemporary, which in no way assists Mr. Bracken, but actually can only be embarrassing to those federal Conservatives he leads.

Therefore, when applied to the Dominion election, the Drew logic leads inevitably to support for the Liberals. It cannot be other wise. After all, if it is conceded, federally, that "never has so much depended upon an election"; that "no mere question of party advantage is at stake"; and that "this election is going to determine whether we are to have strong democratic government . . ." or whether, "at this critical time, we are to suffer all the evil consequences of the sort of group government which has proved so disastrous wherever it has been tried"—if this is conceded, the only thing to do is to vote for the party which has a chance to win. To vote for the Conservatives who held only 39 out of 245 seats in the last Parliament at Ottawa would be to invite the very disasters that Mr. Drew seeks to avoid, for no one will seriously suggest that the Conservative party has the slightest chance of winning a majority in the next federal House.

In the light of this obviously reasonable argument it will be interesting to see what happens in Ontario next Monday. For it stands to reason that if the need for stable government should operate to attract sufficient votes to give Mr. Drew the majority he asks to insure stable provincial government, it follows that Mr. King's prospects on the following Monday in that province would be substantially enhanced. None will question the contention that never in the Dominion's history has the need for a strong government at Ottawa been more imperative than it is at the present time—much more imperative, indeed, than is the case with even such an important provincial administration as that of Ontario.

ALLOWED TO CRITICIZE

ATTENTION WAS DRAWN IN THESE columns a few months ago to the case of Mr. John Ullinder, the Vancouver Island logger who was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 and suspended "without voice or vote in union matters" for 12 months by a jury decision of Local 180, United Woodworkers of America, for being a disruptive influence in the union. At that time interest was evoked in the eventual outcome of any appeal Mr. Ullinder might file.

It is interesting to report that the I.W.A. Executive Board, in Portland this month, voted to sustain the appeal of the Vancouver Island logger and to repeal sentence against him.

The decision of the senior group, reversing as it does the findings of the lower "trial" bodies, at least indicates a sense of judicial fair dealing and preserves the right of a minority to speak its mind against constituted authority. That is a democratic privilege which should not be abrogated by any union.

THAT VALUABLE AIR-ASSET

MR. G. W. G. McCONACHIE, GENERAL Manager, Western Lines, Canadian Pacific Air Lines Ltd., offered some interesting fare for mental digestion in Kamloops last week when he discussed air transport possibilities for Canada in the postwar world with members of the British Columbia Provincial Air Conference.

Particularly interesting were Mr. McConachie's remarks on Canada's trained airmen. Regarding them as a product, he suggested that if they could not be used domestically, they should be exported. He illustrated his point by referring to the Dutch policy of building up air lines and expressed the belief that a similar system might be adopted by the Dominion, which has airmen as good as any in the world.

The Canadian Pacific Air Lines official advocated inauguration of a first class air service with lines covering all parts of the globe. Said Mr. McConachie:

"I feel that if we take immediate progressive steps towards international aviation, we can produce, whether we manufacture the airplanes or not, the best airline in the world."

From his personal experience in the field and his association with an organization that yields little to any steamship line operating on all oceans, he should be in a position to speak with authority. And coupled with the commercial element involved, Mr. McConachie notes that the maintenance of such a service would provide work for those airmen who, released from war activity, seek to make their living in postwar aviation. By the policy he suggests, he adds, a large military air force potential would be preserved for ready reallocation to the R.C.A.F. should occasion demand. It is hardly to be supposed that the Canadian Pacific Air Lines official anticipates the need for a military air force as an inevitable accompaniment of future living. But a vast number of airmen who could convert speedily for such service might be a highly valuable guarantee of national safety and a desirable backlog for any international security commission force.

A THING DESPISED

ACCORDING TO THE PRESS ASSOCIATION, William Joyce, "Lord Haw Haw" of the paid Nazi radio propaganda staff, now in Allied hands, will be tried for treason. The question has been raised over the legality of such a course, since the renegade had renounced British citizenship.

It is difficult to determine a satisfactory punishment for the creature who has been exposed, by circumstances, as a puerile, if vicious, windbag. He stands now in the jackal class, a man who boasted the triumph of Nazi arms and fouled the airwaves with his bitter venom. The future will determine his physical fate. But already he has been condemned in the eyes of decent men. Where honesty and fairness exist, he is a thing despised.

THERE ARE DIFFICULTIES

WITH COMMENDABLE LOGIC, THE Czechoslovak National Council of America recently protested the practice of certain dailies and magazines which continue to call Czech cities by German names. To the Czechoslovak Council it appeared something of an affront to persist in such perpetuation of the Teutonic influence in nomenclature.

Among the particular towns cited was Karlovy Vary, which so many sources continue to call Karlsbad. For the purposes of understanding, however, it will be admitted far more people recognized Karlsbad than Karlovy Vary. That is one point the Czechoslovak Council might keep in mind. Another is the Anglo-Saxon difficulty of swinging through words which appear, to the Anglo-Saxon mind, to have insufficient vowels to permit pronunciation.

COURSE ENRICHMENT

CITIZENS INTERESTED IN EDUCATION will have learned with great satisfaction of the expansion of Victoria College's formal curriculum for the next school year and will watch with keen interest the additional courses arranged for students planning to proceed to Normal School or to enter business life. It is always a matter for congratulation when the field of studies is expanded through such enrichment. By the addition of extra courses in German, commerce, botany, physics and history, the College places its students in a position to secure instruction of high value to them.

The expansion of the program to include the new subjects will permit those who intend to advance through university to select from a wider field the subjects in which they intend to specialize. It will also facilitate higher study at less cost for those in the Victoria region who might, otherwise, be required to spend one more year away from home while they were preparing themselves for degrees.

Approval by the Minister of Education of the pre-Normal course should be of assistance to those young men and women who plan to make teaching their profession. While facilities by obtaining secure first class certificates by extending the regular credits for the full first-year college course, the adoption of the new schedule for those intending to use their academic equipment for the one specific object, should leave them greater leisure to carry on allied extra-mural studies while they are doing the ground work for certification.

The latter course, and that designed to help students who enter business to secure a more rounded education than they received at high school, are in the nature of pioneering trends in British Columbia schooling. As such, they will be followed with considerable interest with a view to their possible adoption by other communities.

A brave, skilled, well-equipped enemy; every foot of gain paid for in blood. Slap the fool who calls it an easy job.

Bruce Hutchison

THE TWO MR. BRACKENS

CAUGHT RED-HANDED in an attempt to cash in politically, at one and the same time, on the pro-war sentiment of English-speaking Canada and the anti-war, anti-Commonwealth sentiment of Quebec—John Bracken, the Conservative leader, chose, in his speech at Edmonton on Friday last, to seek escape by denial. He asked his audience to believe him when he said that his party was not engaged in double-dealing.

The confusion which Mr. Bracken thus seeks to create can be speedily dispelled. It will arise if the public does what he apparently hopes it will do. That is, if people believe that the good faith of Mr. Bracken is a matter of dispute only between himself and his political opponents. Charges made by political opponents in a general election are always subject to a heavy discount and as an old hand in his own right and the pupil of the Tory hierarchy of Toronto these past three years, Mr. Bracken is well aware of it.

THIS IS NOT, however, a dispute between political opponents. It is a dispute between Mr. Bracken and himself. He has made his appeal to the Quebec nationalists. His words are on the public record—uttered by himself. He has, as well, made his appeal to all those in the English-speaking provinces who desire conscription to be applied in the war against Japan. In one province—Quebec—he has posed as the spokesman of the anti-war nationalists; in the others as the conscriptionist.

The truth of the matter is that there are two Mr. Brackens in this campaign, and at Edmonton on Friday, night—as was inevitable—they came into conflict. Conscriptionist John Bracken, who is campaigning in the English-speaking provinces, denounced anti-war, anti-Commonwealth John Bracken who is appearing only in the Quebec constituencies.

The record, which is reproduced textually below, reveals the following facts:

That on May 15 the Conservative Party announced officially, through its organizer, that it would support 33 unnamed Independent Quebec candidates who were free to reject the party's conscription policy, as being "not essential," and would not oppose five of the most virulent isolationist candidates of Quebec, including Mayor Houde of Montreal.

THAT ON MAY 21 Mr. Bracken, in Brandon, confirmed this announcement and said that the Independents of Quebec, whom he is supporting, were free to differ with the Conservative Party "in certain matters—such as, for example, our manpower policy."

If the reader will examine the actual wording of the various statements issued by Mr. Bracken and his organizer, Mr. Lafontaine, the record and the facts, now denied by Mr. Bracken, will be clear. These statements follow:

Montreal, May 15 (Montreal Gazette Report). Statement to Quebec:

"Tell your people back home that we mean all to be Canadians after June 11; tell them each of us will be equal in Canada—equal in the rights we enjoy and equal in the responsibilities we share."

"Tell them the nation will expect from them no more either in peace or war than it asks from others—but that it will expect as much."

"Tell them we mean to preserve Confederation; tell them it can be preserved on a basis of equal rights and equal service, and in no other way."

"Tell them we'll not deceive them."

Mr. Bracken, May 25, Edmonton:

"Mr. King now says that this party is endorsing and lending its support to certain Independent candidates in Quebec who are opposed to conscription. . . . As leader of this party I have not endorsed, nor do I propose to endorse, any candidate who does not adhere to the principles and policy of the Progressive Conservative Party."

Mr. Bracken then recalled and repeated his statement issued in Montreal on May 15, but made no reference to the simultaneous announcement of his Quebec organizer.

Montreal, May 15 (Montreal Gazette Report). Announcement by Paul E. Lafontaine, who is Mr. Bracken's organizer in Quebec:

"The Progressive Conservative Party will support 60 candidates in the province of Quebec. Twenty-seven of these will be straight party candidates carrying the party name, and the rest will be Independents. In five counties we will not oppose certain candidates who run there. For several weeks we have received delegations from all counties and have discovered that popular opinion is for the election of Camillien Houde, P. J. A. Cardin, Liguori Lacombe, Sasseville Roy and Frederic Dorion. The Progressive Conservative Party will respect this opinion and will not oppose these gentlemen."

"We want to be fair, too, to certain Independents who make reserve on points of our program that are not essential," Mr. Lafontaine declared, "and these candidates will so advise their electors. This is in line," he said, "with freedom of thought and action, and I know that John Bracken, the great Canadian conciliator, will, in the federal field as he did in Manitoba, get from these Quebec men the best qualities and advantages each has to offer to the administration of the country."

Mr. Bracken, May 20, Brandon:

"With respect to certain Independents in other Quebec constituencies whom one of our officials stated we would be supporting, the party organization has been frank and honest in stating its position. If in these later constituencies there are candidates who support us on our policies of national unity and of economic and social reform, so much the better. If they differ with us in certain matters—such as, for example, our manpower policy—that is their privilege, and they will no doubt make their position clear to their electors."

When the caller says she can't stay a minute, she isn't fibbing. The least she can stay is an hour.

Distillers say the United States' seven billion booze bill included overhead. But it didn't include wrecks and court costs.

Burma Government Plan Reaffirmed

The White Paper on Burma published this month—three weeks after the capture of Rangoon—is the result of planning which has been going on during the long Japanese occupation.

Until 1937 Burma was a province of the Indian Empire. With the growth of political awareness among the Burmese there came a demand for separation of the two countries. The Burmese differ from the Indians in race, religion and culture, and their economic interests are different (for example, Burma was deriving no benefit from the Indian tariffs on cloth, iron and steel). As part of the constitutional reforms of 1935, which gave India a new constitution, Burma became a separate political unit, with a constitution embodied in the Government of Burma Act.

Pledges to advise and assist the Burmese from India would not slow down Burma's constitutional development. Burma is not burdened with any social and religious problems comparable in difficulty to those of India, but the very severe damage she has suffered during the war—damage which amounts to a shattering of the foundations of her economic and social life—must inevitably retard her progress to some extent. It is in these conditions that the White Paper proposes the extension of the emergency wartime system of government (broadened, it is hoped, by the appointment of an executive council of Burmese to advise and assist the governor) until the end of 1948.

As soon as conditions permit, a general election will be held, and government under the constitution of 1935 will be restored. Then the Burmese people will draw up their own constitution to establish full self-government for their country.

During the Japanese occupation the Burmese people gave full support to the United Nations. At the height of the Japanese advance in 1942, only about 4,000 out of the population of 17,000,000 were co-operating with the enemy, and after the fall of Mandalay, the Japanese organized Burma National Army openly co-operated with the British forces.

The British government has frequently proclaimed that its objective was self-government for Burma at an early date.

Mexico City dates from 1325, when the Aztecs settled on an island in Lake Texcoco.

Letters To The Editor

WANTS NO AMATEURS

The verbal barrages of embryonic statesmen and political misfits craving public acclaim are again disturbing our peace of mind. We are again raked by a crossfire of party condemnation and Utopian promises; and suspicion is born in the minds of thinking people that the emoluments of Parliament outweigh the motives of duty and patriotism. Others, however, gulp it all down, and, between gasps, reiterate their idol's slogan, "It's time for a change; we want a change."

"A change for what?" I ask. Is it possible they are tired of prosperity and want semi or absolute poverty for a change? Do they want to change lightweight jobs with heavyweight wages for . . . the reverse?

After swallowing Hitler's promises, the Germans, too, wanted a change. They got it. They find it hard to digest.

Despite the vehement denunciation of democratic form of government by the C.C.F., present conditions in Canada repudiate their misleading statements. For nowhere in the world are larders so well stocked as in Canada today. Never have Canadians received so much for so little, or indulged in such an orgy of spending; or wallowed in luxurious living unparalleled in the history of the country.

Can these Utopian idealists convince healthy mentalities that a change of these conditions is necessary, will be beneficial to our health and peace of mind? No, sir! For if we analyse the instincts prompting the dog to drop the bone and grasp at a shadow, we would see the unsound logic of dropping or changing an established order of well-

May 30, 1941—Foreign Minister Matsuo declared that Japan had not swerved an inch from the Axis pact. British and Imperial forces in Crete retreated to the island's south shore. British troops in Iraq advanced to within five miles of Baghdad. R.A.F. bombed Cretean airfields and Bengasi.

Today we find some disciples of government preaching a doctrine of continued control over private enterprise, and that means control over individual initiative. We had more than 150 years of the American way of life before we began to hear this kind of talk. It must be stopped now.—Henry Ford.

Bargaining Agent For Conductors Here Rejected in Ottawa

The National War Labor Relations Board announced today in Ottawa it had rejected an application for certification of bargaining representatives submitted by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on behalf of road train conductors of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway on Vancouver Island.

The application was opposed by the Order of Railway Conductors which contended the railway company was not an employer and road train conductors affected were employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway with which the Order of Railway Conductors had a collective bargaining agreement.

The brotherhood took the position that the conductors employed by the E. and N. had not been permitted to cast their votes in a recent vote directed by the board in an application which affected all road train conductors employed by the C.P.R. and C.N.R.

Majority opinion of the board was that the E. and N. had no employees, the conductors concerned were employees of the C.P.R., and they had been deprived of a vote in the ballot which affected C.P.R. conductors through an oversight.

The judgment termed this a "serious omission" but said it would not justify the establishment of the Vancouver Island division as a separate bargaining unit at this time.

Chaotic Rivalry Seen in Aviation

"Who is going to divide post-war North Atlantic air travel between countries anxious to enter the field," asked W. A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines, before leaving Victoria for Chicago.

He foresaw postwar international aviation as a "cut-throat proposition" that will end in chaos if rival companies in different nations compete indiscriminately for the limited amount of business.

Safety practice and international procedure was agreed on by the Chicago air conference, but it failed to deal with the question of international business, said Mr. Patterson.

He said Great Britain had the right idea in allowing rail and steamship companies to buy into air lines.

In the United States, air line companies are being allowed to bid without limitations for the business.

Mr. Patterson said United Air Lines does not intend to compete in the international field.

United Air Lines is planning direct air contact between Vancouver and Mexico City as one of its postwar objectives, he said.

The company has 50 four-engine airliners on order now, he said.

Nanaimo Site Studied For Industrial School

The Boys' Industrial School, which the Provincial Secretary's Department originally planned to erect near Metchoin, will probably be located within a few miles of Nanaimo.

Three sites, two of them north of Nanaimo and one of them south, are being studied now, Provincial Secretary George S. Pearson said. The school will replace the old plant at Essonvale.

Original plans to erect the school in the Metchoin district were changed when the project met strong opposition from Metchoin residents.

Eliminating all suggestion of a prison the school is designed on a college system. Psychological effect of recreational activities, vocational training and healthful environment have been proven to be most effective in training boys who have been regarded as wayward to become good citizens.

Asks Heavy Sentence In W.P.T.B. Case

J. B. Clearhugh, K.C., Wartime Prices and Trade Board prosecutor, asked Magistrate H. C. Hall in police court Tuesday to hand down both a heavy fine and a jail sentence to Romeo G. Pelon, Nanaimo, found guilty of making false statements to the wood fuel officer here in connection with a government wood subsidy. The act provided a maximum fine of $5,000, or a maximum jail sentence of two years, or both, Mr. Clearhugh said.

The magistrate remanded Pelon to Thursday for sentence.

By provincial order-in-council the reserve on a certain area of land in the Yale district has been canceled and a lease of 40 acres granted to Andrew Vaydo and H. R. Knighton of Princeton for a limestone quarry near Allison Creek. The order-in-council said the land, which was reserved by an order Dec. 9, 1943, had no agricultural value.

Plays Bells On Piano

S. A. Bayley, Vancouver campanologist, has never rung a cathedral bell in his life, yet from a piano keyboard draws with his unique technique, resonant tones of cathedral chimes. In Victoria for the week, he will demonstrate his art at the Lions' Club luncheon Thursday.

Mr. Bayley conceived the idea of chimes on the piano in 1923 when he developed an amazingly intricate score. He has been a guest of Ripley on the "Believe-It-or-Not" radio program.

Gets Air Medal

Award of the Air Medal to Staff Sgt. Richard E. Green, 19, ball turret gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress, for "exceptionally meritorious achievement while participating in sustained bomber combat operations over enemy occupied continental Europe," was announced recently by the Eighth Air Force Bomber Station of the U.S.A.A.F. in England.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Green, the young airman was employed at H.M.C. Dockyard before enlistment in January, 1944. His promotion to staff sergeant followed the award.

Municipality of Oak Bay informed City of Victoria by mail today that it was sympathetic towards the movement of a town planning commission, and expected to appoint representatives to confer with the city council's committee studying the question.

Duncan Airman Back From Overseas

Monday's crowd at the C.P.R. dock included Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Wates, Maple Bay Road, Duncan, who came to Victoria to greet their son, PO. Ralph Wates, R.C.A.F., home on leave after 27 months overseas. PO. Wates was based in Britain flying in raids on occupied Europe and Germany. He will spend 30 days at home.

Bus Service Plan To Be Discussed

Belief that the people of Gonzales and Fairfield were entitled to the service, was expressed by Alderman T. W. Hawkins in commenting on an application of the Blue Line Transit Co. Ltd. for permission to operate new bus lines to those districts.

The application will be discussed at a meeting of the city transportation committee Friday morning, and if recommended will be sent on to the City Council.

The company's letter and brief, giving details of the application received by Alderman Hawkins, Saturday, has been made public. View and Douglas Streets would be the proposed city terminus of the new service, with Richmond Avenue and Ross Street the Gonzales terminus, and Dallas Road and Linden Avenue the Fairfield terminus.

New Principal For Fairbridge

Col. Harry T. Logan, principal of Fairbridge Farm School, Cowichan Station, is to be transferred to the London office of the Fairbridge Farm Schools Society and will be succeeded July 1 by Lieut. W. J. Garnett, who, before the war, was connected for five years with the Fairbridge organization.

These changes are part of the reorganization plan worked out by Sir Charles Hambro, who was on the coast earlier this month, and Gordon Green, managing secretary. Both officials are hopeful of the future of the schools in this province and the part they will play in the post-war era.

As soon as transportation and exchange conditions permit, many children from Britain will again be routed to Fairbridge Schools in B.C.

There are now less than 100 boys and girls at Fairbridge and the intention is that the strength will be built up to the full capacity of 250.

Fairbridge represents a worldwide effort to salvage and develop British stock in the overseas dominions. Two schools in Australia are to be reopened as soon as conditions permit.

The provincial government has agreed to renew a grant of $12,500 for the current year and the school will be brought under the general inspection system of the department of education.

A call has been sent out for books and gramophones for men of the merchant navy. Those wishing to make donations of books are asked that the books be modern. Books and gramophones may be left at the Salvage Office.

FOR THE DAWN OF A NEW DAY

Security with Freedom!

Your Vote on June 11th can bring lasting security to your work, your home, your family!

Security for your WORK

Here are some of the definite, practical steps taken by the Liberal Government to give security to home and family by assuring well-paid post-war jobs for everyone:

For Veterans—The most generous plan of any United Nation to get returned men started in the type of work each of them chooses. The Liberal Government is determined that every man and woman coming home to Canada shall return to the land of greatest opportunity in the world.

For Workers—About a third of all Canadians depend on exports for their livelihood. Liberal plans provide for increasing our exports 60% in value over those of 1939.

For Farmers—Acting on the belief that all Canadians prosper when farmers do, the Liberal Government has arranged that they can improve their farms and equipment under a new loan plan and has arranged to put a floor under the prices of farm and fishery products.

To stimulate employment for all, the Liberal Government has created a special Department of Reconstruction which is now in operation and which will co-ordinate private and public enterprise.

Security for your HOME

The Liberals believe that the home is the heart of the nation. They aim to give Canadians every possible facility to build and furnish better homes! With Government assistance you can build a home in the country, town or city. This will make jobs for the building trades, and those who make building supplies—and those who manufacture household equipment and furniture.

New Homes for Canadians—The Liberal Government's new $400,000,000 National Housing Act, now on the statute books, enables hundreds of thousands of Canadians to get money at low interest and on long, generous terms to build, renovate or enlarge their own homes. Now that Germany is defeated, plans are already in operation for at least 50,000 dwellings.

Other practical, workable measures for the security of your home are the Liberal Government's laws for Unemployment Insurance and liberal Old Age Pensions.

The Liberals believe in doing what can be done, as soon as it can be done. If returned to power on June 11th, they will carry on and expand the sound, constructive work already started.

Security for your FAMILY

Family Allowances—Starting in July, parents who benefit least from income tax exemptions will receive Family Allowance cheques every month to help them get better food, clothing, shelter and education for their children so they can grow into healthy, vigorous Canadian citizens. These cheques will amount to between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000 a year. As direct spending power, this will do much to help in achieving the Liberals' objective of full employment.

Health—A National Health Plan will ensure that everybody shall be taken care of while they are sick and the best measures medical science can devise shall be employed to prevent disease.

Despite the efforts of Drew, Bruce, Bracken and other reactionaries, the Liberals are determined that human interests, the needs of men, shall be placed before "business as usual".

The Liberals have faith in Canada, a united country, and in their ability to continue to build, with your support, a more abundant life and greater opportunities for Canadians.

Help build the new order of security with freedom. Protect the social gains already made.
Vote for your Liberal candidate on June 11th.

Sessions Divulge
Revitalized Role
Planned for U.C.T.

Pacific Northwest members of the Grand Council, United Commercial Travelers of America, at their 47th annual session which concluded Tuesday night at the Empress Hotel, outlined for immediate action a new program of U.C.T. participation and activity for the jurisdiction of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

The proposed program listed that a Businessmen's League of the U.C.T. be instituted as a unit within the district to co-ordinate the plan, which is concerned with transportation, food, lodging, allotments legislation, veterans' placement, professional standards, employment and other pertinent matters relating to travelers' activities.

U.C.T. at commencement of gasoline rationing, demonstrated its effectiveness on a national scale in securing consideration for the traveling man. Certain unfair conditions, the report states, could be remedied by active U.C.T. local organization.

Procurement of cars, when new vehicles start to roll off the assembly line, was listed also as a need for representation, so traveling men might secure necessary priority ratings. Unified action would bring about more favorable "food and lodging" accommodation, and establishments catering to travelers would be officially designated with a U.C.T. insignia.

WATCH LEGISLATION

It was advocated the proposed association keep in close touch with legislative activities, so the effect of proposed initiatives and bills bearing on commercial men be thoroughly understood.

Training in the selling profession for veterans was given complete support, as were efforts to eliminate unfair business practices, and necessity was stated of making U.C.T. a recognized agency for employment in the selling field and of studying opportunities for businesses and salesmanship for veterans.

It was felt that one of the weaknesses of U.C.T. was that it had failed to make its influence felt sufficiently in the community, and steps will be taken to remedy this, and also to actively support youth programs in an effort to cope with the problem of juvenile delinquency.

It was pointed out that the constitution limits the amount of per capita tax on members, and that success of the program rested on voluntary contribution of members. An estimated 1,000 members contributing at a set scale would be sufficient to handle expenses.

The plan was presented by M. B. Kelly, Grand Page, No. 83 Seattle Lodge, and unanimously carried by the Grand Council session.

The U.C.T. is an organization with more than 50 years of experience, now lists some 100,000 members who feel strongly that now is the time for action if interests of the business and commercial men are to be protected in the postwar era.

SLATE OF OFFICERS

Officers elected at Tuesday's sessions were installed by L. C. Hochtritt, Supreme Counsellor. Named to the Grand Council were D. V. Harber, Grand Counsellor, Eugene, Ore.; C. S. Fishel, Grand Past Counsellor, Seattle; H. L. Mullett, Grand Junior Counsellor, Vancouver; M. B. Kelly, Grand Conductor, Seattle; J. V. Johnson, Grand Page, Victoria; O. Sutor, Grand Sentinel, Portland; L. D. McBeath, Grand Treasurer, Everett; F. Hubbell, Grand Treasurer, Seattle, and L. Buley, Grand Chaplain, Eugene.

Elected to the Grand Executive Committee were Thomas Sharp, Spokane; Walter Berg, Tacoma; M. B. Cavanaugh, Yaloma; and J. Williams, New Westminster.

Delegates to the Supreme Council are R. W. Murdoch, C. Fishel, W. S. Stanley, D. V. Harber and B. Duncan.

More than 300 were present at the banquet ceremony at which E. G. Rowbottom offered the toast, and dancing followed in the upper room of the Crystal Garden.

Red Cross Notes

Metochin—Metochin unit celebrated Empire Day in Metochin with a floral tea in aid of the Red Cross. Decorated tea tables made a pretty picture in the hall and secret ballots awarded the prizes. Children flocked with their pets to enter the pet parade, and the visiting judge, Mrs. W. Bowden, awarded prizes. The helpers were: Decorated tables, Mrs. R. Waterman; pet parade, Mrs. R. Mathews, assisted by Wilfred Hankin; home cooking, Mrs. H. Bolton, assisted by Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Peet, Mrs. McCreight; fruit cake, Mrs. Milligan; hot dog stand, Mrs. Lutener; tea, Mrs. G. Roy, assisted by Mrs. Hewitt, Mrs. Witty, Mrs. Olson and Miss Read; door, Mr. Milligan. Proceeds of the afternoon's entertainment were approximately $100.

Belmont Unit—The plans were made for the annual garden party at the Royal Canadian Naval College at Royal Roads to be held June 16 at a meeting of the Belmont Red Cross unit at the home of J. C. Nimmo. W. E. Stevenson reported that $228 had been received since January, and that $100 was an anonymous donation.

New Accordion—A special request for a No. 8 piano accordion has been made by a patient at the Gordon Head Hospital. Any person able to furnish such an instrument is asked to call B 3159.

Good wishes won't win election for C.C.F. It takes folding money—$2 to Margaret Carr, 648 Yates, will help. Tomorrow is "Donation Day."

Dominion I.O.D.E. Spends
$1,215,420 This Year

REGINA (CP)—Disbursements reported by 914 junior, primary, municipal and provincial chapters of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, totaled $1,215,420 for the year, it was revealed in the report of the treasurer, Mrs. W. R. Walton Jr., Toronto, and given at the annual meeting of the national chapter here Monday.

Of the total, $485,273 went through war service funds. Primary and junior chapters reported $35,951 raised for other organizations but not put through their books.

Mrs. Cameron Dow, president of the Federation of Women's Institutes, who is en route to its annual meeting in Victoria, attended Monday's sessions and spoke on the responsibilities of women's organizations and the need for greater understanding between such groups.

A report on ex-service personnel prepared by Mrs. K. L. Dawson of Halifax showed that $25,000 was devoted to various branches of this committee's work during the year. This represented an increase of $5,000 over 1944, and the convener reminded members that hospital visiting was assuming larger proportions with more and more men returning from overseas.

In recognition of "extensive and efficient service" to the Order, Mrs. J. D. Detwiler, of London, Ont., was made a national life member of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, national chapter.

The membership was presented by Mrs. Ryland H. New, of Oakville, Ont., national president of the I.O.D.E., and followed the reading of Mrs. Detwiler's educational report, during which she said the number of students benefiting from chapter bursaries, scholarships and other monetary assistance had increased to 430 from 340 in 1944. Altogether, 121 bursaries and 100 scholarships were made available.

Dorothy
Dix40-YEAR GAP BETWEEN MAN AND GIRL TOO WIDE TO BRIDGE

Dear Miss Dix: I am desperately in love with a young lady of 22, as she is with me, and the only obstacle to our marriage is that I am 60, but I am in good health and except that I have grey hair nobody would take me for over 40. We both work in the same defence plant, make good money, are very congenial, and I am sure we could be very happy together, except that a lot of old women have ganged up on us and made her afraid to try it. What do you think?

Answer: I am sorry to discourage such a budding love affair, but the difference in your ages is entirely too great and your marriage would be a predestined failure, no matter how much both of you strove to make it a success. The girl is in the springtime of life and you are in its late autumn, and the two can never blend.

YEARS TAKE TOLL

Of course, you say you are healthy and strong and still young and nobody would take you for your age. But it isn't true. It is the myth with which all of us deceive ourselves, but Time, with relentless logic, calls our bluff. The years take their toll. They sap our strength. They harden our arteries. They slow our gait. They give us spectacles and a cane in exchange for our clear vision and nimble feet. And we are old, whether we admit it or not.

It has always been a mistake for people to marry outside of their own age class, but it was never such an error as it is now. For in the last few years customs and habits, and points of view have simply been revolutionized so completely that it is impossible to build a bridge across the chasm that separates this generation from your generation.

If you married this girl, you would find out that you didn't really have a thing in common. You would bore her and she would bore you to extinction. She would do things that are just a matter of course to her that would shock you to death, and you would have habits that would get on her nerves so she could not stand them, and you would both be miserable.

Keep your friendship, but don't try to marry.

Victoria-Saanich
Recreation Park

Saanich council Tuesday evening endorsed efforts of the Victoria-Saanich Beach and Parks Committee in securing an area of about three acres situated on the right-hand side of Sinclair Road, at Cadboro Bay beach, for use as a recreation park.

The municipality's school board sent a cheque for $1,615 from sale of the Lake Hill school property enclosed with a letter from D. R. McAdams, school board secretary, asking that the money be spent in purchase of more school property. A list would be made of property required and sent to the council, Mr. McAdams wrote.

A letter from the International Association of Fire Fighters, 626 Cormorant Street, told the council association members had rejected the salary schedule proposed by the council. The council approved the association's suggestion that a further meeting be held between the council and the bargaining agent of the firemen.

John Tribe, municipal clerk, said tenders would have to be called for high school debentures amounting to $156,000. The debentures would be dated June 15, he said.

Councillor J. L. Hobbs was re-appointed the council's representative on the Royal Jubilee Hospital's board of directors.

The council voted a grant of $25 to the Civil Defence Casualty team to defray costs of time off work and travelling to defend the R. S. Filbert Trophy, held by the Saanich team.

Ganges Activities

I.O.D.E. Stalls—The first of the summer stalls was held at Ganges wharf with Mrs. C. Springford and Mrs. C. Baker in charge, when the sum of $27.42 was cleared for the funds.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital held a meeting in the boardroom of the hospital, with Mrs. G. Lowe in the chair. It was voted to donate $100 toward a new children's ward. Tea was served by Mrs. Trafford and Mrs. G. Lowe.

Wren Ratings
To Keep Kit Issue

OTTAWA (CP)—Nimble fingers are going to be making over about 20,000 Wren uniforms sometime in the peaceful future, as a result of a naval service announcement today that Wren ratings will be allowed to keep all the kit issued to them in the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service.

This means an average of two summer and two winter jackets and skirts for each of the 6,000 Wrens now on active service. They will also have their sailor hats, adaptable to all kinds of millinery angles, tricornes, navy greatcoats for winter wear, and their gabardine raincoats, which look well as a casual coat.

JUST AS BIG and healthy as ever Torchy Peden dropped into the office this week for a chat. The former six-day bike racing star is spending a few days at home before leaving for eastern United States to investigate the possibilities of associating himself with sports promotion. Torchy will be getting his discharge from the R.C.A.F. next month after over two and a half years of service, and wants to get into a civilian job right away. Peden has a couple of good contacts in Chicago and Cleveland and from the way he talked will have no trouble getting located.

IT IS POSSIBLE Peden will continue his physical training work. He went into that line of work on joining the air force and continued to be associated with that particular branch during his entire service. "I visited various P.T. units of all services of the United States armed forces with the result that I have a mighty good insight into the work," Peden said. "In addition I learned a lot during my six-day bike racing career, through assisting Archie McKinnon at the Olympic Games, looking after track and field teams in Toronto and helping to get a lot of riders in shape for six-day races. I have been associated with athletes all my life and it is just possible I may decide to stay in that field. I have already been offered a job in that line in Chicago and may take it while attending a university for a special course in P.T. work."

PEDEN COMES OUT of the R.C.A.F. with nothing but pleasant memories. "Those two and a half years in uniform will always be remembered as one of the finest experiences of my life," Torchy said. "The co-operation I received from all the boys during their P.T. periods was marvelous and from my own viewpoint the discipline was practically the same as I laid down for myself when I first started out in the six-day racing game."

RATED BY MANY CRITICS in Vancouver as one of the greatest soccer teams ever turned out on the mainland, St. Saviours, mighty champions of the Coast League, will be in town Saturday to tackle Victoria West in the semifinal round of the provincial cup. Tommy McGibbon, well-known mainland soccer player, recently returned from overseas, paid the Saints a great tribute when he expressed the opinion they could hold their own with majority of present-day pro clubs in Britain. The Saints will come here with a great reputation but to the youthful Wests they will just be another football eleven. The Wests have beaten a lot of clubs this season solely on sheer fight and bustling tactics. From what I hear the greenshirts hope to check the Saints at every turn and wait for the breaks. Spelling tactics are tough on any team and the Vancouver champions may find it difficult to get settled. Going back a few years I well remember the many good teams that fell before the Saanich Thistles. Fielding a team composed mostly of youngsters who could run all afternoon the Thistles knew little good football but they outlasted and outgamed many an opponent.

Beavers Edge Seattle in 12th

Don Pulford Brilliant

Don Pulford, one of the mainstays of the Portland mound staff, almost single-handedly beat off the challenging Seattle Rainiers in a 12-inning game last night and kept the tottering Beavers at the top of the Coast League.

The right-hander hit safely in five of his six times at bat and drove in the winning run to put the loop-leaders a game and a half ahead of Seattle. The Beavers' 4 to 3 victory at least temporarily ended a slump in which they lost eight out of their last 10 games.

Third-place Oakland failed to gain on the Rainiers as the San Francisco Seals decisively beat their trans-bay rivals and moved to the head of the second division. San Diego nosed out Sacramento to retain its slim hold on fourth. Los Angeles and Hollywood did not play.

Pulford, spotted to a one-run lead by his mates in the first frame, pitched shutout ball until the sixth, when Seattle bunched a double and single to tie the score. The Beavers came back with a pair in the eighth on a walk, error and three singles, and the Portland bat boy had already headed for the dressing room in the last of the ninth when the Rainiers filled the bases and knotted the count at 4-4. Singles by Portland manager Marv Owen and Jack O'Neill, followed by Pulford's fifth hit of the night provided the visitors with their winning tally in the 12th.

The Seals, in winning 5 to 1, scored as many runs as they had hit, Garta Mann, Oakland hurler, was the victim of his own wildness and shaky support. The victory put San Francisco within a game and a half of a first division berth.

Canadian Troops Best Equipped For Athletics

TORONTO (CP)—Every Canadian serviceman may not carry a field marshal's baton in his haversack, but almost every Canadian service unit has lugged with it into the battle lines and outposts of the European war something more important to most Canadians—a wide variety of sports equipment.

Early in the war the National Defence Department placed sports equipment on the "essential" list for the armed forces on the same basis as military stores, and to date, 80 per cent of an approximate total request $1,000,000 worth of sporting goods has been supplied to troops overseas. Bert O'Leary, co-ordinator of sports goods for the Canadian armed forces, says the rest will be delivered by Aug. 1.

Overseas requests for such equipment have far exceeded the normal peacetime demands for the whole Dominion. O'Leary said in an interview in which he described Canada's servicemen as "the best athletically equipped soldiers, sailors and airmen in the world."

Sports equipment for overseas units is requisitioned by four organizations recognized by the Canadian government: The National Council of Y.M.C.A.s, the Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus and the Canadian Legion. Funds for goods so ordered are provided by the government.

Figures for all lines from the start of the war to last February include 30,000 footballs, 15,000 football bats, 25,000 softball and baseball gloves, 45,000 pairs of athletic shoes of all types. Orders partly filled are for 30,000 athletic jerseys and 50,000 tennis balls.

Cup Soccer Saturday

Saints Announce Team

Victoria soccer fans will get a chance to look over one of the most evenly-balanced eleven developed in Vancouver for many years Saturday at Macdonald Park when St. Saviours, battle Victoria West in the semifinals of the Province Cup. Starting time has been set for 3.

For this match the Wests will have to change their famous colors as the Saints also play in green.

In goal the Saints will have Ernie Bradbury, a big policeman who for many years played centre-forward for the greenshirts, and who has developed into a spectacular goalkeeper. They have a number of first-class players for the back positions, including George Bain, Eric Camp, Don Cowan, George Anderson and Sunny Dunbar. Bain hails from Winnipeg and is, undoubtedly, one of the finest positional players ever to show in Vancouver and reminds the fans very much of George Anderson, who played for the Westminsters Royals. Eric Camp will be well remembered by the Victoria fans as one of the outstanding players in the Radials team, who won the last Canadian championship. The left back position will be filled by Don Cowan, another ex-Radial, who has been playing great football all season. George Anderson, the crippled, blond-headed boy, may also fill in as left full back, and he can be relied upon at all times. Ernie Dunbar, who played with Kerrisdale and North Shore, can play either in the right or left full back position.

CLEVER HALF LINE
St. Saviours' half line has been playing great soccer all year. At right half they have Allan Sawyer with Jack Hipwell, centre half, and the one and only Jimmy Gemmell at left. This is definitely one of the finest half lines to come out of Vancouver in many years. In addition, they have Jimmy Miltstead, who played such good soccer for the Victoria Army team.

In front of a strong defence the Saints have a real smooth-working forward line which shapes up from the right as follows: Joe Jankovich, Ivan Carr, Harold (Hap) Smith, Brian Philley, and Laurie Todd. Jankovich and Carr have played together since juvenile days and they make a real right wing. Hap Smith, who came into prominence as a member of the old Radials, is a going concern at centre forward and is a continual threat. St. Saviours made a great find in young Brian Philley, former Varsity player, for the inside left position, and he and Laurie Todd make a beautiful combination.

St. Saviours won the Coast League championship this season, losing only two games in their 15-game schedule. They also beat North Shore in the Mainland Cup competition and are out to add the provincial championship trophy to their collection of silverware.

Writers Win Navy Bowling Honors
In the Navy Fivepin League, recently completed at Gibson's Bowladrome, Writers won the championship with the C.V.D. in second place.

Str. J. Patterson won the high average award with 245 and also rolled the high three games with 865. Supply Asst. Ellis had the high single game with 363.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia Athletics and Cleveland Indians swapped catchers Tuesday.

The A's traded veteran Frankie Hayes for Cleveland's Buddy Roser. The announcement was made as the A's won 2 to 1 over the Indians.

Women Fastballers Play to Tie After Two-Hour Argument

After a lengthy dispute over the final score in last night's women's softball game between the Victoria Box and the C.W.A.C. teams, umpire Fred Tooby called it a draw, 8 to 8. An argument lasting nearly two hours arose when score sheets did not tally.

Flo Kennedy pitched for the C.W.A.C., relieving E. Stewart, who is right in Flo's class as far as pitching goes. First up to bat, E. Stewart brought in the only runner in the first stanza for the Army girls. Held scoreless in the next four innings, they came back to life in the sixth with six runs across the plate, during a change of pitchers for Vic Box.

Betty Carr and Bannack, who along with Flo Kennedy, were regarded as top players last year are back on the Army this season. Although Rider was badly missed by her many fans and teammates, the team proved quite strong.

Victoria Box, under coach Gordie Perkins, made slow but steady gains through the seven innings. Betty Aiken hurled splendidly for five innings and was relieved by Bannack, and it was then that the C.W.A.C. got the right of way and poked in runs galore. Marsha Hanowski, who made great strides in last season's finals, proved every bit as useful last night and is given credit for top runs, along with Teddy Bradford for Victoria Box.

One of the topmost players, Vera Travis, first-sacker for Victoria Box, turned in a smart game.

Last year's young star player for the Boxers, Dot Lehman, suffered a terrific sunburn, but was right on her toes when it came to swatting.

SHEET METAL WIN

Pacific Sheet Metal defeated Sprue Products by the score of 10 to 0 in the men's senior B division.

Though they put up a good fight, Sprue Products were no match against the deadly pitching of S. Tenning.

In the game between the K.V.'s and the Black and Whites, the former took the honors by a score of 20 to 6. With seven runs in the first inning, K.V.'s settled down to one run per inning, with a homer socked in the fifth by their catcher, Chow. In the seventh inning they chalked up another six, and to top it off scored three more in the eighth.

Flyers-Army Play Baseball Tonight

Tonight's city league ball game at Athletic Park will see the R.C.A.F. out to take over undisputed possession of first place at the expense of the Army. Starting time is 6:15.

Flyers' line-up will be somewhat changed tonight. In Pop Payer's regular berth at first base will be Jimmy Morrison, former star of several leading Vancouver teams. Pay will be absent from the team during leave. Stu Watson, former centre fielder of last year's nine, will be in left field as a replacement for Irwin Stout who has received his discharge.

Doug Sutton is expected to be the starting hurler for the Flyers with southpaw Al Edwards the likely choice for the Army.

Like Old Times As Yanks Murder Ball

It's like old times around the Yankee Stadium these days, with Joe McCarthy's gang busting the fences, leading the league and rolling up familiar telephone number scores.

Eight straight victories is the current record of the New York ers who have surged from fourth place to take over the lead during the successful home stand against the western visitors.

Home has been a happy land for the Yankees all season, for they have captured 14 of 16 decisions on the stadium turf and haven't dropped a single series in the Bronx. Detroit and Cleveland are the only clubs who haven't paid a visit and the Tigers are due today with Cleveland to follow for the week-end.

Oddly enough, the longest victory string in two Yankee seasons has found two of the more obscure members of the staff, Atley Donald and Floyd Bevens, each hurling two complete games and one nine-inning job by Walt Dubiel. Hank Borowy, the ace of the mound corps, failed to last either outing although credited with one of the decisions, and Ernie Bonham, the No. 2 man, has been unable to take a turn in over two weeks.

George Sturmwels has been one of the main reasons for the success story, boosting his average from .297 to a second-place .333 since the wins started pouring in. Bud Metheny, fighting to regain his regular right field job from the ailing Russ Derry, has added more than 100 points to his total.

CLEAN SERIES SWEEP

Sturmwels and Metheny each added three hits yesterday, as did third-sacker Oscar Grimes, while Donald whitewashed the defending champion St. Louis Browns, 11 to 0 for a clean sweep of the three-game series.

Pittsburgh, as hot as the Yanks but in another league, swept to its eighth successive triumph but had to come up with a three-run homer by catcher Bill Salkeld in the last half of the ninth to top the New York Giants, 4 to 3.

Harry Feldman had the Buccos shut out until the eighth but faded for Ace Adams, who gave up the decisive blow for a Pittsburgh series sweep.

Ben Chapman, despite an aching arm, elbowed the Brooklyn past Chicago, 10 to 3, with Dixie Walker's four hits leading the attack on Mack Stewart and two other Cub tossers. Five rounds in a big third inning did the trick for the Dodgers, who climbed past the Bruins into third spot.

Whitey Kurowski had a big 4-for-4 night for St. Louis as owner Sam Breadon collected another dividend on Charley (Red) Barrett, the right-hander acquired in the Mort Cooper deal. Barrett held the Phillies to four hits in easily trouncing his starting rival.

LET GEORGE FIX IT!

When it's hot in summertime, or in winter when there's ice, it's a home that's insulated. You have a temperature that's nice.

Conference Speaker Flays Canadian Prison System

"Surely imprisonment is the greatest impersonal punishment society can inflict upon a man, but when we add to this the lash, the shackling, the dark cell—these are not the impersonal decrees of society," said Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell, case worker for the John Howard Society in Victoria at the Penal Reform Conference at the Empress Hotel today.

Mrs. Mitchell spoke on prison conditions in Canada as revealed by the report of the royal commission at the opening session of the one-day conference on penal reform at the Empress Hotel Wednesday.

"I wish so earnestly to stress the futility of this kind of treatment. We are told that in 1935 in England and Wales, with a population of approximately 40,000,000, there were 47,424 convictions for indictable offences. In the same year in Canada, with a population of approximately 11,000,000, there were 33,531 convictions. It was significant that in England and Wales, with nearly four times as great a population as Canada, there were 32 prisons and six Borstal institutions, while in Canada there were 22 adult reformatories, seven penitentiaries and 118 county jails," Mrs. Mitchell said. "If we continue with this penal system we will not have to build still more penitentiaries and jails?" she asked.

Gasoline Stations In Victoria Will Keep Present Hours

Lifting of the restriction on hours of sale of gasoline and oil, effective June 1, will make no difference to Victoria motorists. Announcement of the lifting of the restrictions was made yesterday at Ottawa.

Arthur Songhurst, Victoria Garagemen's Association secretary, said today a city by-law brought in during 1942 permitting gas stations to remain open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. will continue to be enforced. Before the ruling could be changed 50 per cent of the trade would have to petition the city for removal of the by-law.

"As far as we are concerned," said Mr. Songhurst, "the present hours are part of our postwar program. Gas station owners prefer them this way. We have already made arrangements with the Attorney-General's department to have the Sunday closing enforced after lifting of restrictions."

Jim Dangerfield, Victoria Super Service partner, said that because of the labor shortage, gas stations are having a hard time keeping open between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m.

"With the gas ration still small," he said, "we can handle the number of cars coming in during the present hours."
 The wartime regulation just lifted set the hours for the sale of gasoline from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., with no sale on Sundays.

Railways Ready To Transport Home Troops From War

Bringing home the armed forces now that the European war is over will be one of the major responsibilities of the Canadian transportation systems, and it will be done with all the dispatch and efficiency for which they are noted, according to W. E. Norton, assistant passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, Montreal.

Mr. Norton, who is in Victoria today with Osborne Scott, passenger traffic manager, Winnipeg, said: "All our efforts are being directed to the transport of the armed forces and will be for some time to come." The bringing home of the armed personnel from Europe will be our main task and we shall give everything we have.

A large proportion of the troops coming on furlough before transferring to the Pacific theatre of war, will be handled by the Canadian National Railways on the transcontinental trip.

The company's equipment is in good shape to handle the movement and the troop traffic will be handled as expeditiously as possible, he said.

On the question of resumption of tourist traffic, Mr. Norton thought this season would witness a considerable movement with modification of travel restrictions, but the expected deluge of tourists would not come until the war against the Japs is successfully concluded.

"The Pacific coast is the magnet of the tourist industry," he said, "and Victoria will inevitably draw its quota when the tourist movement soars to new heights."

After announcing that a discussion period would be held after each of the sessions, he said he hoped that before the day was up the audience would realize the need to bring about penal reform.

CRITIZES PRESENT SYSTEM

Tracing the development of prison reform and reviewing the findings of the royal commission appointed to investigate the Canadian penal system, Mrs. Mitchell turned to prison conditions in Canada.

"Dealing only for a moment with those who are reformable, it is obvious that the present prison system is bound to result in a gradual demoralization of those subjected to it. They become spiritually as well as physically anemic, lazy, shiftless, physically and mentally torpid and generally ineffective and unreliable," she said.

Those on the platform in addition of Mayor George and Mrs. Mitchell were Hon. R. W. Craig, K.C., one of the three members of the royal commission, who will deliver the principal address of the conference Wednesday night on the topic, "The Crime of Punishment," and H. G. Wyatt, secretary of the John Howard Society.

Eating Big Business Says President Of Restaurateurs

A warning the restaurant industry could expect keen competition in the postwar period and that operators would have to prepare to meet this competition if they were to survive, was given today by V. T. Gregory, Toronto, general manager of Honey Dew Division, Canadian Food Products Ltd., and president, Canadian Restaurant Association.

Mr. Gregory is in Victoria to attend a two-day convention of restaurateurs which opened this morning at the Empress Hotel. Attention will have to be given to the three major phases of the business, Mr. Gregory said. These are: The appearance and condition of eating establishments; quality of food and the keenness and attitude of employees.

He saw great potentialities for tourist travel to Victoria and suggested that perhaps facilities here at present were not adequate, as the first things a tourist demands are good beds and good food.

In B.C. within the next two years, the Honey Dew division expects to spend $250,000 in opening and maintenance of new eating places, and a site has been leased on Yates Street where Mr. Gregory expects a Honey Dew restaurant to be in operation within the year.

Eating is a big business in this province, he said. There are about 1,000 restaurants doing an annual business close to $15,000,000.

He advocated as an additional tourist attraction, that Canadian foods be given typically Canadian names.

Lift Restrictions On Inner Tubes

Broadening of automobile tire regulations will permit chiropractors, land surveyors, dry cleaners and laundrymen to purchase new tires June 1, according to an announcement from Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, Tuesday.

"It will be a great help," said Thomas Lumsden, Victoria tire controller, "to laundrymen which have been getting along with old tires."

He noted that rationing of inner tubes will be lifted by the new order. Any car owner will be able to buy them through ordinary channels after June 1. Mr. Lumsden predicted that car owners will find plenty in stock because manufacturing capacity of the inner tubes has proved greater than tire capacity and no natural rubber is required in their production.

He pointed out that Victoria tire dealers have about all the business they can handle at present and predicted that as far as outer tubes are concerned the new order would not make a great deal of difference in the city.

until the war against the Japs is successfully concluded.

Specialist Passes

Private funeral service will be held at Haywards' Funeral Parlors at 11 Thursday morning for Dr. Morton J. Keys, well known eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, who died at St. Joseph's Hospital Tuesday after a lengthy illness. Dr. W. G. Wilson will officiate at the service which will be followed by cremation.

Quarrel With Wife Led to Capture Of 'Haw Haw' Joyce

LUENEBURG, Germany (AP)—Capture of William (Lord Haw Haw) Joyce, renegade British broadcaster, indirectly resulted from a quarrel between him and the 34-year-old Englishwoman who said she was his wife, it was announced today.

The senior intelligence officer of the British 2nd Army said further questioning of the wounded prisoner had disclosed the quarrel with the woman, who spent Tuesday night under guard in the house where Heinrich Himmler poisoned himself. It was learned she was arrested about the same time as Lord Haw Haw, not previously, as was believed Tuesday.

Joyce, who called himself Wilhelm Froehlich (William Joyous) in German, left their house near Flensburg, apparently in a huff after the quarrel, the officer said. The subject of the spat was not learned.

VOICE GIVE-AWAY

He was strolling through the woods cooling his ruffled spirits when he came upon two British officers gathering firewood, and started a conversation. They recognized his voice.

The officers said he admitted his identity and was shot when he made what appeared to be a threatening move with his hand in a pocket as if he had a gun.

"Haw Haw," remained cynical and sarcastic as he has been ever since he was taken Monday evening, spent an uncomfortable night in the 2nd Army hospital here. Doctors today said the bullet entered his thigh and passed through the buttocks.

ATLAS THEATRE
A story about a boy and a horse has always had universal appeal, especially when written by a fine novelist, with a great sympathy and understanding of boys and horses.

Such a story, filmed in glorious technicolor, and with many world famous scenic spots as its background, is "Thunderhead—son of Flicka," which 20th Century-Fox brings to the screen of the Atlas Theatre today, from Mary O'Hara's best-loved best-seller. Featuring: Roddy McDowall,

York to Present 'Home in Indiana'

"All the thrills of 'Kentucky'!"
"All the magnificence of 'Maryland'!" "A simply wonderful picture!"

That's the essence of the unanimous preview acclaim coming out of Hollywood on 20th Century-Fox's new technicolor hit, "Home in Indiana," the film based on the famous Saturday Evening Post serial, "The Phantom Filly," by George Agnew Chamberlain, and opening tomorrow at the York Theatre.

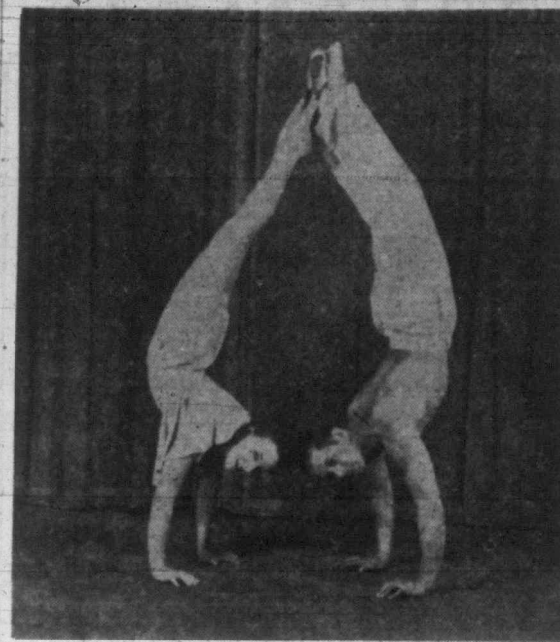

Featuring Walter Brennan, Lon McCallister, Jeanne Crain, Charlotte Greenwood, June Haver and an outstanding supporting cast, 20th Century-Fox's monumental trilogy of films (of which "Kentucky" and "Maryland" were the first two) depicting the exciting drama, romance and thrills of one of America's great traditions is brought to a triumphant climax with "Home in Indiana."

OAK BAY THEATRE

Now at the Oak Bay Theatre is the up-to-the-minute screen version of that famous stage farce "My Wife's Family." It stars none other than Charlie Clapham (of Clapham and Dwyer fame), a popular comedian who can be depended on for laughs, and John Warwick with Patricia Roc, Wylie Watson, Peggy Bryan, Chili Bouchier, and Margaret Scudamore in the chief supporting roles.

Preston Foster and Rita Johnson in leading roles, the picture is being acclaimed as greater in every way than the never-to-be-forgotten "My Friend Flicka."

Balancing Act at B.C. Products Fair

Larry and Verna Moore, "the man who walks upside down and the girl who turns inside out," are the feature attraction at the B.C. Products Bureau Fair to be held at Oak Bay High School Thursday night.

Report On Success Of Drama Festival

The committee of the Greater Victoria School Drama Festival held the final meeting of the 1945 season in Spencer's, where they were the guests of the Community Drama Branch of the Department of Education. W. H. Muncy presided. Gilbert Ward gave a statement of accounts showing a balance after all expenses had been paid. Each city in the festival will be granted $15 and the expenses of the Vancouver cast from John Oliver High School will be paid.

On the recommendation of the adjudicator Ross Lort, C.D.A., two scholarships at the Banff Summer School will be granted, one to Mary Butters of 3003 Uplands Road, and the other to Dave Dornan of 972 Dunsmuir Road. Miss Butters played the part of a half-wit in "The Hour Glass" put on by Oak Bay High School under the direction of Miss Margaret Gordon, and Dave Dornan played Malvolio in Miss Hewlings Esquimalt High School production of "Twelfth Night." Remaining profits will be given for the benefit of the children of the Protestant Orphanage. Appreciation of the good work done by Mr. Muncy and the members of his committee was expressed by Major Bullock-Webster, the general organizer.

'San Luis Rey' To Be Rio's Feature

Two authentic tapestries from the summer palace of the former King of Naples are used in Benedict Bogeaus' hit film, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," now playing at the Rio Theatre through United Artists release.

The tapestries valued at $15,000 each are used as part of the setting for this film which stars Lynn Bari in her greatest role as the exotic actress, Gerichole with Akim Tamiroff, Francis Lederer, Louis Calhern, Alla Nazimova, Donald Woods and Blanche Yurka in important supporting roles.

Where To Go Tonight

ATLAS — "Son of Flicka," starring Roddy McDowall, with Dorothy Lamour.

Dennis Morgan Dominion's Star

Think you've got family trouble? Wait till you see what Dennis Morgan is up against in the new Warner's comedy hit, "The Very Thought Of You," opening Friday at the Dominion Theatre.

Morgan plays a soldier, back home from the Aleutians on brief furlough before shipping out again. In Pasadena, he meets Eleanor Parker and is brought home for dinner. Opposition in the form of a tense, over-emotional, war-strained family motivates the story.

Also starred, besides Miss Parker and Morgan, is Dane Clark, Faye Emerson, Henry Travers and Beulah Bondi head a brilliant supporting cast.

DOMINION THEATRE

Suspense in an unusual degree features "Betrayal From the East," RKO Radio thrilladen screen version of Alan Hynd's book on the activities of Jap spies prior to Pearl Harbor, now being shown at the Dominion theatre.

Starring Lee Tracy (back in pictures after his discharge from the army) and Nancy Kelly, the film deals with the dangerous exploits of two American counter-spies who attempt to trap a group of Japanese agents seeking to learn of our secret defence plans.

William Berke directed the production by Herman Schlom.

PLAZA THEATRE

Marshall Thompson, who plays the juvenile lead opposite Gloria Jean in the Universal musical film, "Reckless Age," now at the Plaza Theatre, has an illustrious background of relatives.

Named after his great-great-grandfather, John Marshall, the first U.S. Chief Justice, the 19-year-old leading man also has a great-uncle, General George C. Marshall, who is commanding officer of all forces in the United States army. Quite a background!

CAPITOL THEATRE

The film version of "For Whom the Bell Tolls," produced by Paramount in technicolor, represents the combined efforts of some of the most outstanding production names in Hollywood. Not only the acting talent of two such favorites as Cooper and Miss Bergman graces the production, but the great cast includes Akim Tamiroff, Arturo de Cordova, Joseph Calleia, Katina Paxinou, Vladimir Sokoloff and Mikhail Rasmussen, among others.

WITH TRANSFER PRIVILEGES

80c WEEKLY PASS — TRANSFERABLE

Offered to Residents of the City of Victoria Living in FAIRFIELD and GONZALES Districts

The Following Letter and Brief Has Been Submitted to the Victoria Transportation Committee

Alderman T. C. Hawkins,
Chairman of the Transportation Committee,
City Hall, Victoria, B.C.
Gentlemen,—
SUBJECT: FAIRFIELD AND GONZALES BUS ROUTES

During the past several years we have been requested by numerous residents living in the Gonzales and Fairfield districts to inaugurate a bus service there. Now that the Transit Control regulations have been relaxed, we are prepared, subject to your approval and the consent of the Mayor and Council, to start a bus service through Fairfield and Gonzales districts by July 2, 1945, also subject to the consent of the Public Utilities Commission.

We are enclosing a brief, outlining the proposed routes and city terminals, frequency of services, transfer privileges and fares.

This letter is an application for permission to operate the above-mentioned services. Our ability to carry out these proposed new services is shown by our record of service in the City of Victoria for the past 17 years, and in the Municipality of Oak Bay for the past 16 years, and in the City of Nanaimo and district for the past six years.

We trust that in the near future we will have an opportunity of meeting your transportation committee and further discuss this matter.

Yours truly,
HLS:DC

News Writer Helped Find Hidden Hoard Valued At $200,000,000

By CURT REISS
Copyright, 1945 NEA Service Inc.
BERCHTESGADEN — From the very start, this correspondent was in on the entire hunt for the fabulous art treasures hidden away by Hermann Goering. The collection, valued conservatively at more than $200,000,000, is now on display in a requisitioned hotel here, for the benefit of American soldiers.

Maj. Hugh A. McGettigan of Newton, Mass., discovered Goering's hiding place, more than 50 feet underground, after several days of tracking down numerous leads. This correspondent can say that his knowledge of the German language as well as of the psychology of the population helped to bring about the sensational find.

Major McGettigan and I investigated a number of "suspicious" houses and questioned inhabitants. One house, which particularly interested us, was a bungalow on the estate reserved for the staff of Goering.

MAZE OF CORRIDORS

This house had an extremely large and deep air raid shelter. Investigation showed that the shelter had been started about two years ago, about 30 feet below the surface. Last fall Goering ordered that a deeper shelter, about 60 feet deep, should be started.

Today, it is a maze of subterranean corridors and caves cut out of the rock. You can wander there for half an hour, though the ceilings are low and you have to stoop. The whole system, which never was finished, is damped by water dripping from the walls. Altogether this subterranean arrangement is something you read about in mystery novels, but don't expect to encounter in real life.

McGettigan, upon first inspecting this air raid shelter, exclaimed: "I'll bet this hasn't been built just for air raids."

While following up this hunch, I talked to quite a few people in the neighborhood about that particular house and the role the air raid shelter might have played. While most neighbors professed to know nothing, I finally encountered one old woman who acted very nervously after I mentioned the cellar. She finally confided: "Two days before the Americans came there was something done about this shelter. In the middle of the night a truck drove up. Some men unloaded a lot of chests and brought them into the shelter. I don't know what they did, but they worked there all night, emerging the next noon."

The woman was terribly worried, lest I would repeat this and she might be killed by the werewolf or some other secret organization. The next step was a new inspection of the shelter. McGettigan decided that it might take weeks, if not months, to find anything which might have been hidden there behind new walls. Therefore, another approach was decided upon.

The man who had built the shelter, an architect, was sought. When found, he was asked to produce the plans of the air raid shelter. He declared that he did not have them any more.

I then proceeded to ask the architect if he could inspect the air raid shelter with us and let us know whether or not anything had been changed, and to tell us if new walls had been built.

The man seemed uncertain that he could do this. While muttering something to that effect, he became more and more nervous. McGettigan at once realized, and I had the same feeling, that the man knew more than he wanted to say.

Therefore, McGettigan didn't pursue the matter, but seemingly without interest, turned away. Later that evening I paid a second visit to the architect. I told him that we had proof that he had come back to the air raid shelter only days before our entry into Berchtesgaden. What had he been doing?

The man said he couldn't say. He was ordered to keep silent. McGettigan, who joined us, told me to tell the man that he would proceed to blow up the whole underground structure in order to find out what was being hidden.

Now the man broke down. "Please don't blow it up," he begged. "You'll destroy priceless art treasures." Then he told us the whole story.

Here it is: Days after Hermann Goering was arrested by the SS, and taken away from Berchtesgaden, his friends and employees in Berchtesgaden remembered that a train of nine freight cars loaded with belongings of Goering, among them stolen art treasures, was standing on a side track near Koenigssee. They decided, under the leadership of Under-Secretary Goernert of the Air Ministry, to hide most of the precious masterpieces. They brought them into the air raid shelter and put them into a room blown into the rocks. After having deposited the treasures there, they had the architect design a new wall, hiding the entire room. Since all the surrounding walls were dripping wet anyhow, and some of the walls were covered with timbers, this newly finished wall wouldn't have been especially visible. Then the architect showed us the exact location of the wall and our soldiers at once began to dig. This went on most of the night, with torches keeping the subterranean tunnels light.

TREASURES DAMAGED

Next morning we began to take things out of the cave under special supervision of Maj. Gen. Taylor of the 101st Airborne Division. We came in the nick of time. A few days more in the wet cave would have ruined countless paintings, tapestries, etc.

Even now some have been badly damaged, partly by water and partly because they were shoved into the room in the greatest haste, and were torn or cut.

I saw paintings by Granach, who was one of Goering's favorite artists. There were masterpieces by Rubens, Titian, and Brueghel. There were old French tapestries, wooden madonnas by the middle ages, of the south German and Tyrol schools; gold and silver plates, and Persian and Chinese rugs.

In addition, Goering had collected painted church windows, antique arms, Rembrandts, Van Dykes, Bouchers, Watteaus, Fragonards and Goyas. These paintings are fabulously valuable. The least valuable item in the art collection was one water color, standing somewhat forlornly among the great masters. The name of the picture is "Haus Mit Weissm Zaun" (House With White Hedge). The man who painted it is Adolf Hitler.

2 Victoria Fliers Among 86 Released Men Coming Home

MONTREAL (AP)—A draft of 86 members of the Royal Canadian Air Force, all of them former prisoners of war, arrived at the repatriation depot at nearby Lachine Tuesday, and most of them will be on their way to their homes tonight.

Some of the fliers had been prisoners for more than three years, like W.O. Ivan Quinn from Manitoulin Island, Ont., who was liberated from Fallinbrosel camp by the British 7th Armored Division. During his three years and eight months of internment he became president of the Canadian Club at Stalag Luft 3, 6 and 357.

It was his job to see that prisoners received the proper amount of rations, Red Cross parcels and other items.

"We set up and maintained a rigid price control system to prevent inflation and overcharging at the exchange and mail shops run by the prisoners," he said. "Cigarettes were the monetary standard and there was a set price for each thing."

Almost a score of those returning on the draft were notified on their arrival at the repatriation depot that they had been commissioned.

Those returning included: British Columbia—W.O. J. B. Spark and F.O. H. R. Mooney of Victoria.

Vancouver To Be T.C.A. Terminal For Pacific Service

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver airport will be enlarged and used by Trans-Canada Airlines as the Canadian terminus of a Pacific run, W. F. English of Winnipeg, vice-president of Trans-Canada Airlines, announced here Tuesday.

Mr. English said the Pacific run would meet another service from Australia somewhere in the Pacific at a point not yet decided upon. He added that extension of Vancouver airport runways from 5,000 to 8,000 feet will be required for the large four-engine 44-passenger Douglas aircraft the company proposes to use on the route.

The aircraft will be operated on through services across Canada with stops only at Toronto and Winnipeg and perhaps one other prairie point between Montreal and Vancouver.

Planes operated at present by T.C.A. will be used to carry traffic between other main centres across the Dominion.

The four-engine airliners will be built at Montreal and will be equipped with Rolls-Royce engines. They will have a flying range with full load from 3,400 to 3,600 miles.

Baby Girl for Hedy
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A girl, weighing seven and a half pounds, was born early Tuesday to Hedy Lamarr and her husband, John Loder. It is their first child. The movie star was married two years and two days ago. No name for the baby has been chosen.

LEBANON SECTION OF SYRIA NOW CONTAINS ANCIENT PHOENICIA

Today let us have some questions and answers about Syria, a country at the eastern end of the Mediterranean sea.

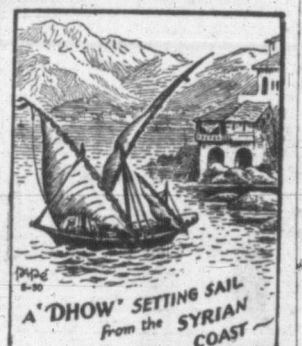

Q. How big is Syria?

A. Counting Lebanon and Latakia as parts of Syria, the country has an area of 76,000 square miles. This means it is about the same size as Virginia, Maryland and West Virginia together.

Q. What is the population?

A. The latest census estimate gives the population as 3,630,000.

Q. Is Syria a free country?

A. There is a bit of a question on that point. It has been listed as a "free republic," and the people seem to want it that way. Yet France was given a mandate over it after the First World War. While things are being settled after the Second World War, the French may put forward new claims to the right to rule it.

Q. Who are the Syrians?

A. For the most part, they are people of mixed white stock. Arabs, Armenians, Circassians, Kurds, Greeks and Persians have settled in the region during the past 3,000 years. Together they make up the great majority of the Syrian people.

Q. Does Syria include the ancient country of Phoenicia?

A. Yes, most of it. Phoenicia is no longer a nation, but its land is now mainly in Syria. The section of Syria called Lebanon has nearly the same boundaries as Phoenicia had at one time.

Q. Do any of the Phoenician cities still exist?

A. Yes, but names have changed. Berytus has become Beirut. Byblos, the city which gave its name to the Bible, is at present known as Jbeil. It is only a village now, with about 1,000 people in it. A small city called Tyre stands today on the site of ancient Tyre, or Sor. The population of modern Tyre is only about 6,000.

Q. What is the religion of the Syrians?

A. Most of them are Moslems. Q. Do the people of this ancient country have radio sets?

A. Some of them do, but most of them don't. At the time of the last count (1938) only one Syrian home out of 40 had a radio.
